clyde barrow ambush

3111 N. Winnetka
West Dallas
TX

On January 6, 1933, Bonnie & Clyde were ambushed here in the home of Lillie McBride, the sister of Raymond Hamilton, a member of the notorious Clyde Barrow gang. Police had been staking out this house after investigating a bank robbery in which Odell Chambless, a friend of Clyde Barrow's was involved. They were waiting for Odell who they thought might show up when at about midnight, a car pulled up to the residence. A man got out of the vehicle; however, it wasn't Chambless. It was Clyde Barrow. After realizing he'd stepped into a trap, Barrow opened fire and killed deputy officer Malcolm Davis by the front porch. The car, who police believe carried either Chambless or Bonnie Parker, sped away; and Barrow escaped on foot. Davis died from his injuries before he reached the hospital.
